Please circle the area or topic to which you think your paper should belong:

Apocalyptic Literature , Asian/Pacific Biblical Hermeneutics, Biblical Archaeology , Bible and Disability Studies, Bible Translations, Ecology and the Bible, Economics and the Bible, Feminist Interpretations of the Bible, General Epistles , Historical Books, Historical Jesus , Historical-Critical Readings of the Bible, Johannine Studies , Pauline Studies, Literary Criticism of the Bible, Pedagogy and/of Biblical Studies, Pentateuch , Postcolonial Criticism of the Bible, Prophets , Psalms, Queer Criticism of the Bible, Reception and Recycle of Biblical Narratives, Synoptic Gospels and Acts , Wisdom Literature .

Note: One of the main objectives of this society is to foster biblical scholarship and research in Asia that takes seriously the Asian context—its cultures, religions and methodologies. It is therefore imperative that papers presented at this meeting are attempts to understand the Bible from varied Asian perspectives. For this year, we are especially hoping for papers that deal with our theme on ecology and/or economy. We are also looking especially for papers that deal with pedagogical issues that arise from teaching biblical studies within Asian/Pacific contexts..
